When war was first declared and our boys mustered into the service they were automatically covered, for a period of three months, by the War Risk insurance; those entering later not being given this protection unless applied for. The injustice of this was called to the attention of the Hon. Jouett Shouse, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, when he was here last June by Mr. H. G. Hoffman, the General Agent of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., of California, in this city, Mr. Shouse readily seeing it, as presented by Mr. Hoffman, and shortly after his return to Washington a bill was introduced to give this, and which bill, we are pleased to note, has just passed the House unanimously. There were one or two Montgomery county boys who died, or were killed during the war who had not been given the opportunity to secure this protection and if now their families are afforded this benefit and payment it will be largely through Mr. Hoffman's suggestion and efforts, thus broadening the service which he has always accorded his own clients and the War Risk insurance business which he has handled during the past three or four years.—Gazette, September 17th, 1919.

Proper forms for making application for automatic insurance were sent on January 3rd. Upon receipt of these properly executed, the Bureau of War Risk Insurance will immediately adjudicate

No greater problem can engage our serious attention than that of conserving the boy life of our State and Nation; and there has never been a time in our history when the need of this conservation was more apparent than it is today. Therefore, I, Edwin P. Why Is a Headache?

Various Causes for This Common Affliction

Anemia or Bloodlessness a Very Common Cause

Pepto-Mangan Overcomes Anemia and Tends to Prevent Headaches

When one has an occasional headache it is usually due to some transient or passing cause, such as indegisvania and closely observed the flora tion, eye-strain, over-tiredness, etc. When, however, one suffers from frequent periodic headaches there is always some special reason for it Among the most common of such reasons is Anemia or Bloodlessness. This condition is especially frequent among girls and young women and those whose occupations or habits of life keep them too much indoors. The one important necessity in such cases s to build up the quantity and qualty of the weak and watery blood. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is exceptionaly valuable for this purpose. It increases the number and improves the quality of the red blod cells, those vital little bodies which carry nutrition to all parts of the body. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the face and restores health and strength to the body generally. After a short course of Pepto-Mangan the headaches decrease in frequency and severity and finally disappear, if they are due to Anemia. Pepto-Mangan may be had either in liquid or tablet form, as preferred. When buying Pepto-Mangan be sure to name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

COLD STORAGE PIRATES

Every thinking person knows that cold storage warehouses are a modern necessity in order to insure a proper distribution of food and prevent enormous wastage from decay.

But well informed people also know that such is not the principal use to which they are now being

They are the means by which food pirates rob and plunder the people. Stores are cornered on the market, hid away in the cold storage warehouses, and allowed to remain there until a fictitious price has been created by an apparent shortage. Then they are dribbled out and enormous profits are made therefrom.

Things run along smoothly for the pirates in this manner, until some enterprising newspaper noses out the facts and begins to stir up the natives. Then some public official comes to life, lets out a few terrifying roars at nothing, and goes home and takes a stiff drink-if he can

But when food pirates milk the public of millions by their criminal manipulation of the cold storage warehouses we envy them in their greatness and leave them to keep right on plundering.

In other words, we curb the little thief and give the hig one a free

Some of the large cities of this country are rotten to their cores, and if the cores were required to stand alone they would collapse of their own decay. For it is in the cities that this wholesale piracy and plundering of the people finds its inception and protection.

Sterling, about 10 miles from Winchester and 3 miles from Thomson's Station on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. It lies on both sides of the Wade's Mill and Sewell's Shop turnpike. This land has been subdivided into five different tracts, each of said tracts having a large frontage on the Wade's Mill and Sewell's Shop turnpike, and each tract makes a fine farm in itself.

TRACT NO. 1-Contains 106 421-100 acres. This tract lies well, has a large frontage on the pike, affords a splendid building site, is mostly in blue grass and has on it a large amount of fine tobacco and hemp land, and is well watered.

TRACT NO. 2-Contains 176 15-100 acres. It has a large pike frontage. Improvements consist of a nine-room, two-story frame residence with two halls, large front and back porch, good cistern, smoke house, ice house, 2 buggy houses, stock barn, good orchard and other improvements. A portion of this land is in grass and the balance in a fine state of cultivation. This tract, with its improvements, makes a most desirable home.

TRACT NO. 3-Contains 86 42-100 acres. It has a large pike frontage, affords a splendid building site, is well watered and most of this land is in blue grass.

TRACT NO. 4—Contains 94 537-1000 acres, has a large pike frontage, lies well and has on it a splendid building site. A portion of this land is in blue grass and the balance is in a high state of cultivation.

TRACT NO. 5-Contains 80 192-1000 acres. It has a large pike frontage, and has on it a brick residence of four rooms and kitchen, a stock barn and other out-buildings. It is practically all in blue grass, and is watered by never-failing springs. For further information prospective purchasers are invited to call on the un-

BOOST YOUR TOWN

An ideal citizen is one who sees something good in his town and spreads the god news abroad that others may benefit therefrom.

Of course, there are other sidelights to the ideal citizen, but the quality of loyalty is one which produces tangible results.

There are three distinct attitudes which a person may assume toward the community which houses and feeds him-to boost, to remain quiescent or to knock.

The booster pushes his town along, the quiscent citizen lulls it to sleep,

If you are a hooster, they admire you; if you are quiescent they wonder when you will emerge from your slumber, and if you are a knocker, they yearn for the day when you will fold up your tent and silently fade away.

SERVICE IS REMEDY FOR

INDUSTRIAL CHAOS

An attitude of service is the only remedy for the present industrial chaos. This was the dominant tone of the convention of the American Economic Society at Chicago last week, as reported by Walter J. Matherly, head of the Department of Economics at Georgetown College.

Four great industrial problems confront creative thinkers in 1920,

Professor Matherly said. International trade and foreign exchange must be adjusted, industrial democracy must be established, the high cost of living reduced, and the railroad problem solved. These questions were discussed fully by the economists and business men at Chicago. Foreign moneys are at the lowest exchange. The English pound sterling, which in normal times sells for $4.87, is now worth only $3.74. The French franc has dropped from 19 cents to 10 cents. The German reischmark, formerly worth 24 cents, is hardly worth two cents now in United States money. This condition of foreign exchange means that the United States will be forced to accept pay-

It means also that America will have to make all foreign accounts of long duration.

There are three forces to be taken into consideration, the Kentucky economist said in discussing industrial problems. These are dissatisfaction on the part of workers, with the nature of industry, dissatisfaction with the management of industry, and dissatisfaction with the workers' share in industry. Democratic principles must be applied to industry as well as government. Professor Matherly believes, and the absentee owner must be eliminated as far as

There are three remedies, he said, for the high cost of living. An increase in production is the principal remedy. During 1919 production in the United States actually decreased while in other countries it increased. A second remedy is to deflate currency. There is too great an inflation of currency at present, and this brings about speculation. Thrift is the third remedy for the high cost of living.

The railroad problem is perplexng, the Kentuckian declared. The Plum plan is discredited, though it contains many good points. Mr. Glenn E. Plum was present at the convention and made a very sane and effective plea for his own solution of the railroad problem.

The Velvet tin is twice as big as shown here

There's a World of Solid Comfort In the Rich.Red Tin

TES, sir, we mean that same warm red and gold tin that smiles a welcoming "Howdy" to you in . every tobacco store. Know what those colors mean?

The red is for the friendly warmth, the mellow cheeriness, that Velvet puts into your old pipe. And the gold is where the Kentucky sunshine, that ripens good old Velvet, has just sort of soaked through.

Remember what Velvet Joe said about it?

"You've met canned meat and canned music. Ever see any tinned sunshine? Well, look into any Velvet tin."

And think this over:

We don't have to hide Velvet's taste or smell with a lot of this, that and the other thing. Because Velvet has naturally what pipe smokers want-real simonpure tobacco taste and fragrance. It's just good, honest Kentucky leaf, made still more friendly and mellow by two years' ageing in wooden hogsheads. Just good tobacco. That's all. But it's mighty near enough for the man who wants a pipeful of tobacco and not a box of bon bons.

The picture of a pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

How's the Velvet holding out in your old red tin?

A SUGGESTION WORTH WHILE

The citizens of Montgomery county may well be proud of the part played by one of its citizens in having enacted into law that part of the "Sweet Bill," recently passed in Washington and approved by the President last month. The original bill of the War Risk Insurance Bureau gave automatic insurance to our sailors and soldiers, without their even applying for it, for the first 120 days after the passage of the act. Those he well. being inducted into service later were not given this excepting when applied for. The injustice of this, when some of those mustered into service were not even given the opportunity of making application before being killed or dying in the service was brought to the attenton of the Assistant Secretagy of the Treasury, the Hon. Jonett Shouse, when he was in Mt. Sterling last summer by Mr. H. G. Hoffman, and so plainly set forth that. through Mr. Shouse, the original bill was amended and those of our boys who had failed, during the first few months of army life to make application, have been covered in this recently enacted bill. This is of national importance and will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to the wives, mothers, fathers and other beneficiaries who otherwise would have been grossly neglected. Would more of our citizens take the same interest and pride in such matters, even though there is no compesnation, as in this case, we would all be happier and better and more contented citizens. To Mr. Hoffman, in behalf of Montgomery county, or we might say the United States, we thank you for the interest you took in pushing this important matter.

NO REST

At the last meeting of the City Council the women of the Rest Room asked that body to appropriate for their benefit $100.00. Councilman H. G. Hoffman moved that this amount be donated and for want of a second the motion failed to come before the Council for action. Any assistance given the Rest Room is appreciated by the good women who are back of this worthy object and our country women who receive as much benefit as others feel very kindly to our citizens, who have made it possible to furnish this, a most needed place of rest. There is as we understand, money sufficient from which to make the donation and we are hope. ful that our city fathers will inquire into the good results coming from this place of rest and that they will yet make the appropriation. That these rooms may be kept open a canvass has been made and our people have responded generously, but there is yet need of the city's contribution. We do hope the Council will not go on record as willing to have these rooms abolished for want of a pittance appropriation.

FACTS PRESENTED

From the Post and Mercury, Liverpool, England, we produce an article which carries with it much force and concludes, all arguments pro and con concerning questions in England as to the temperance question, and as it is there, under similar conditions it would be in all other sections. The article from facts given by Post and Mercury published in Liverpool, England, are as follows:

The record of convictions for drunkenness stood at 287 per week before the war. It fell to 52 in 1918. Since the removal of war-time restrictions there has been a steady increase in these arrests, which is now around the figure of 119. This is attributed to the extension of hours, unrestricted output of beer, and the revocation of the "no-treating" order.

GOODBYE BROTHER BURTON

If Senator Burton is the good Democrat as he is credited it seems to us he would have talked out in party conferences and would have tried to effect compromises satisfactory to both himself and colleagues. There have been others who have acted as did Senator Burton and in these acts they dug their own political graves.

NEEDED TO BREAK RECORDS

Dorothy Evidently Had Far to Go if She Intended to Outshine Her Uncle.

A Hoosier newspaper man recently went to visit his brother's family, consisting of the brother, his wife and two tiny daughters. Now, the uncle's typewriter, which he felt necessary to take with him, and his trunk, were two articles in which the two little girls were much interested. And two-year-old Dorothy watched every chance she could get to examine both. Five-year-old Ruth also was attracted to them, but some way or other had great trouble in telling which was which.

One day Dorothy got to the trunk when it was open. So straightway she began to pull from its depth many articles of uncle's wearing apparel. Just as she was most intent in doing this Ruth happened into the room. Horrified she ran to her father and uncle. "Oh, daddy," she began, "Dorothy is getting the most awful things out of uncle's typewriter."

Father grinned. "She surely has to be some getter," he remarked meaningly to his brother, "if she can manage to get anything worse out of it than you do."-Indianapolis News.

PRESS AGENT'S CRUELTY.

The late Tody Hamilton, famous as a circus press agent, once planned a special performance at the winter headquarters of his show. He arranged to feed beer to the animals in their cages and notified the New York newspapers.

Among the reporters was a bibulous veteran known as "Billy." The night before his assignment he had been engaged in a severe bout with John Barleycorn and the next day felt greatly in need of a pick-me-up. As the keepers, under Hamilton's direction, poured gallons of beer into the receptacles for the animals sniffing at it indifferently, Billy became more and more incensed at the waste.

"I can't stand this any longer, Tody," he exclaimed. "For the love of Mike, haven't you got an empty cage for me?"-Everybody's Magazine.

Almost All Nations Have a Peculiar Intoxicant to Which They Are Unduly Partial.

The betel nut is chewed by at least 50,000,000; an uncleanly habit which is not likely ever to gain much vogue in this country. The leaves of cocoa are chewed by many millions, to whom our more refined and incomparably more deadly indulgence in their alkaloid cocaine, is unknown or inaccessiblé. Stramonium, offensive as it is to most of us, is used as an intoxicant by millions. The South Sea islanders get howling drunk on kava, which is a fiery liquor brewed from a species of pepper. The big red seeds of the goora, more commonly known in this country as kola nuts, are a favorite intoxicant of the African natives. The amanita muscaria, or fly mushroom, which here is a deadly poison and is the cause every year of numerous cases of serious illness and death to those who mistake it for the edible mushroom, is in Siberia and especially in Kamchatka commonly eaten as an intoxicant, without worse results than those which attend the drinking of whisky.

talian Youth Taught to Become Self-Dependent to a Degree That Seems Amazing.

One of the strangest cities in the world, composed entirely of little gentlemen, and graced with the most radiant nomenclature—it has been christened, because of its peculiar construction, a "dry Venice"-is Madesimo, Italy. The very names of streets-Generosity, Gayety, Cordiality-breathe the atmosphere of this juvenile Utopia, where all social differences have disappeared beneath the explorer's uniform. Nor is this city such in name only; it has all the departments that go to make up a flourishing municipality, and its youthful citizens are trained in all the civic virtues, plus those sterner qualities that come only from direct contact with nature and the solution of problems as they arise. To the English or American reader comparison with the boy scout program in its original form is inevitable. These youngsters are taught, for example, to go three days honestly without a soldo (we would say a cent) in their pockets; to establish telegraphic communication, to serve as nurses—in short, to become as modern progress.

MESS CALL GOT HIM.

The lieutenant was decidedly sleepy and settled down deep in his chair in one of the Indianapolis vaudeville program chugged its weary way onward.

At last the audience was released and soon had left the theater, all except the lieutenant, who was sleeping soundly in the vacant parquet. The leader of the orchestra turned on the cornetist, who played retreat call. Still Morpheus held sway. He blew an Nth power jazz note, still with no effect. Then the cheering notes of mess call sounded forth.

On the first of the culinary "Tata-ta-ta-ra-ra" notes, the weary soldier jumped from the chair, took a look about the theater and proceeded double time to the exit.

It is a far cry from the world war to a child's roller skates, but according to a fashion expert roller skates of the latest approved model are after the style of British fighting tanks. Most naked-skinned animals love to wallow in water or mud and water, and some furred animals also do. Such bathing is enjoyed by the rhinoceros and buffalo, bears, tigers and dogs. But this wallowing is not bathing. Indeed, the animals are . sometimes dirtier afterward than before. Some animals, such as cats and mice, do all their bathing by licking. Game birds favor a roll in sand, although some keep their coats sleek without either dry or wet cleaning.

Birds appear to be the chief water washers. Some of them prefer shower baths, such as are possible during rainstorms, and they enter into their bath with great glee. Some delight in dust baths, while some few, like the sparrow, employ both dust and water.

PEDESTRIAN RECORD.

How far can a man travel on his feet in one day? So far as known, a record made in 1882 has never been equaled. In Madison Square Garden, New York, on February 27, 1882, the Englishman, Charles self-dependent as is consistent with Rowell, starting at midnight, walked and ran 150 miles during that day, or, to be specific, in 22 hours 28 minutes 25 seconds. An extraordinary thing about this record is that it was intended to represent merely the first day in a stx vaudeville theaters. The summer days' "go-as-you-please." By Wednesday night he had covered more than half of 700 miles, but on the next day he left the contest. His first day's record remains, however, as a world's distance for 24 hours.

TRAINING LITTLE CITIZENS

"I assert confidently that is is in the power of one American mother to make as many gentlemen as she has sons."-Marion Harland.

My text is the manners of two little children who called upon me, each with her mother. When three-yearold was introduced, she put out her tiny hand and said with a charming smile, "How do you do? My mamma said you liked little girls." "Mamma" opened her bag and out came threeyear-old's best beloved doll. In two minutes Three-year-old was playing happily in the bay window, while her mother and I had the long talk that we wanted.

When Four-year-old called and her mother said, "This is my little daughter," she made no response to my greeting, but promptly seized my prettiest sofa pillow, threw it on the floor and trampled over and over its delicate silk and with her dusty sandals. Her mother said nothing, but when she rose to leave she was quite severe with little Four-year-old because she neglected to make the formal courtesy that she had been taught. "Evidently her home training in good manners consists in learning to make that courtesy," said a friend who was present; but I fancied there was something more than that back of the difference between the two children. Of course calls on grown ups are dull matters for small folks, but little Three-year-old had, by the thoughtful word of her mother, been put in a mood to please and be pleastioned in his district as the successor ed, which is the foundation of pleasof John D. > Whatever life may bring to a person, there is one thing certain, he will have to mingle with other people; and good manners, which have their rise in a kindly feeling toward others will be a great help. Of whatever follies kings and queens have been guilty, they have generally realized that much of their popularity must rest upon the impression that their manners make upon people. Long before Queen Victoria could speak plainly, she was taught to make a little bow and say, "Morning, lady," or "Morning, sir," when anyone approached her little carriage. Years later, a sailor lifted her small daughter on board the royal yacht, saying as he set her down, "There you are, my little lady." "I'm a princess," the child retorted. "I'm not a little lady." The watchful mother said. "That is true. Tell the kind sailor that you are not a lady yet, but that you hope to be one some day."

How can children be taught courtesy? The foundation, of course, is to teach them by word and example to feel kindly toward the people around them. Show them the little ways of thoughtfulness by which they can express this kindliness of feeling. Teach

Unusual Value-In Tires for Small Cars

Not only is characteristic Goodyear merit conspicuous in Goodyear Tires for small cars but ordinarily the first cost is found to be not greater than that of other tires; often it is actually less.

The combination of unusual value in first cost and very low final cost, of course, is a result of Goodyear experience, expertness and care employed as insistently in the making of 30x3-, 30x31/2- and 31x4-inch tires as it is in the construction of the famous Goodyear Cord Tires used on the highestpriced automobiles.

For this reason more cars using these small sizes were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind. ANUTHER DANGER AREAD

The country should look ahead and ount the cost.

Otherwise it may look back later and catalogue the disasters.

With the farmers rolling in wealth from years of increasing prosperity, there is grave danger of a slackening up in their efforts at production.

The average farmer could reduce his acreage by one-third and still feel no pinch whatever. And in view of the fact that since the beginning of the war they have been breaking all records, a reaction from fatigue would not be at all surprising.

There is no disguising the fact that certain amount of foodstuffs must be sent abroad, if we are not to contribute to the starvation of vast numbers of helpless people in Europe.

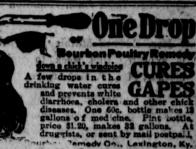

And if, in the midst of this insistent demand for food from foreign countries, our farmers should conclude that they need a deserved rest and reduce their acreage, disaster would inevitably follow.

Every one knows that the farmer came nobly to the front in the emergency of war and worked early and late to feed our armies and the world, and no one can deny that he is entitled to a rest.

The Vital Thing That Will Give Old Your Car New Life

"Money Makes the Mare Go"-It's the battery that makes the Car Go.

What is the condition of your battery? Is it an "isser?" Does it make the car go as long and as far as it should? Or don't you know it's condition.

The difference between an "isser" and a "has been" is largely a question of how much care is taken of the battery. It is our business to take care of any batteries, to repair all makes, but our principal business is to see that you get an Eveready—the battery with a written guarantee for one and one-half years.

TO MAKE PAPER FROM STRAW

Rapid Destruction of Canada's Pulpwood Will Lead to That Very Soon, Is the Claim.

That newsprint paper will have to be made from the straw of wheat and other grains in a few years if the destruction of Canadian pulpwood forests continues at its present rate, was the assertion of C. Price-Green of Toronto, industrial commissioner of the Canadian National railways, in Chicago to attend the exposition of chemical industries. The straw, he said, now is largely wasted. "With only one-fifteenth of theworld's population, the United States consumes one-half of the world's production of paper," he said. "At the present rate of consumption and destruction by fire, insects and fungus growths, one is forced to the conclusion that the time is not far distant when a substitute for spruce in the making of newsprint paper will have to be found, and one of the most likely sources of supply is to be found in the vast quantities of straw from the grain-growing areas, which at the present time is being wasted."

"SPEECH" OF DUMB ANIMALS

Writer Tells of Two Instances in Which They Plainly Made Wants Known to Her.

While walking in the street one day an airedale followed me for a couple of blocks. Then all of a sudden it ran ahead of me and stopped in front of a faucet. It kept on standing there, looking at me. It having occurred to me what was in the dog's mind, I took a pail which was standing nearby, and filled it with water. The dog watched with hungry eyes, and when the pail was full enough, drank eagerly. Another time, while I was waiting for the car, I noticed a fox terrier standing by an automobile. It came over to me and I spoke to it. It looked so pleadingly into my face that I wondered if anything was the matter. It kept on looking at me so earnestly and worriedly as if to say, "Won't you help me?" Then I discovered that something was wrong with the fastening of its collar, which was hurting its neck. I fixed it and the dog's tail began to wag and its eyes to twinkle happily. When I was done, it ran back to the automobile and lay down contentedly.-Katherine Hansen, in Dumb Animals.

WEALTH UNDER NEW YORK.

In richness and variety of mineral wealth the land under New York city is second only to Lance Rock in Norway. The largest garnet on record was found in 1885 at the corner of Seventh avenue and Thirty-fifth street. Aquamarines and other beryls, tourmalines, smoky-quartz crystals, clear-quartz crystals, topazes and opals, all have been found in the ledges along Broadway. But the deposits of precious stones are exasperatingly inaccessible; the tremendous value of New York real estate will probably guard them forever against schemes of would-be miners.

PERSHING'S FLAG GOES TO WELLESLEY COLLEGE

Featuring one of the most impressive events ever witnessed at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., General Pershing's famous four-star flag of red with four white stars alligned through its center, together with his war helmet and the personal battle pennon of the German Emperor, were presented to Wellesley College thru the Azora Society of that institution and a receiving committee from East Wellesley class.

Long before the General returned home from France it was known that the Azora Society at Wellesley Colleye was to have his flag and helmet. His late wife was a member of the 17, inclusive. Azora and he himself is now an honorary member.

In the receiving line representing the class of 1923 was Miss Elizabeth R. Gay, of 522 East Main street, Lexington, Ky., who in her turn delivered an address of thanks and appreciation.

The presentation was made by Countess De Tidekerke, chairman of the Belgian Purple Cross, now visiting in this country. The Kaiser's personal pennon was given to the Countess by the Emperor personally, who detached it from his automobile at her re-

CROP ESTIMATES

The value to Kentucky farmers of thirteen of their principal crops in 1919 was $400,751,000, which is $54,-165,000 more than in 1918, or approximately 16 per cent greater than the $346,586,000 produced in 1918, although the total quantity of production of all these crops in 1919 was about 4 per cent. less than in 1918, according to the annual revised estimates for Kentucky issued here by the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates. This valuation includes corn, wheat, oats, rye, barley, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tobacco, hay, sorghum syrup, clover seed, apples and peaches.

The leading crops in value were: Tobacco, $174,383,000; corn, $127,-875,000; hay, $39,649,000; wheat, $25,381,000, and potatoes, $10,584,-000. If apples and peaches be excluded the field crops show approximately 3 per cent. decrease in quantity of production under 1918, but the total value of 1919 crops shows an increase of about 16 per cent. over 1918, although corn, wheat, rye and barley were less than in 1918.

This increase in value is almost entirely due to increased prices of tobacco, the total of the 1919 tobacco crop being estimated at $174,383,000, compared to $123,715,000 in 1918. This is based on an estimated average price of 38.2 cents a pound for all types of tobacco grown in Kentucky. This estimate of the value of the State's tobacco crop may prove too low or too high, depending on the prices at which the remainder of the crop is sold.

Kentucky ranks fourteenth in value of principal crops produced in 1919, compared to seventeenth in 1918 and eighteenth for the average production of principal crops 1913-

The acreage of wheat sowed in Kentucky last fall was 719,000, compared to 1,057,000 acres sowed in 1918, a decrease of nearly 10 per cent., while the rye acreage was 57,-000, compared to 63,000 acres sowed in 1918. The United States acreage of winter wheat sowed last fall was 38,770,000, compared to 50,489,000 acres sowed in 1918, a decrease of 23.2 per cent., while the rye acreage is 5,530,000, compared to 7,232,000 acres sowed in 1918.

Farm wages in Kentucky increased approximately 13 per cent from December 1, 1918, to December 1, 1919.

The carriers entered on the contest last May, after the offer of the prizes was made by Mr. Wilson, and the campaign was carried on under the personal direction of Postmaster Colin M. Selph.

Postmaster Selph, in a letter to Mr. Wilson, said that the ten who made the next best sales after the twelve prize winners were also worthy of special mention. They, with the amounts of their sales, are as follows:

David Knibb, $7,290; Andrew Kittenback, $6,355; Henry Ellersieck, $6,$40; Charles E. Roth, $5,830; Charles A. ockey, $5,615; George Weule, $5,410; C. A. Raines, $5,320; J. D. Gibbons, $5,310; Fred J. Brasse, $4,980; Leonard B. Wagstaff, $4,885.

Postmaster Selph says the St. Louis office in 1920 will endeavor to break the record made in 1918.

First intimation of this new aspect came tonight in announcement by D. C. Roper, Commissioner of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, that forms for making income tax returns, which will be in the hands of all internal revenue collectors and ready for distribution this week, will centain a section providing that tenants shall include in their statements the amounts of rents paid and to whom it was paid. This information will be turned over to the Department of Justice to be used in its high cost of living campaign.

"The tenants are doing the driving and holding the whip," Mr. Roper

"Profiteer landlords will be held to the straight and narrow path in the payment of their income taxes. Revenge is sweet to the tenant who has had to dig deep into his earnings to pay a high rental in 1919. Gathering his family around him, he takes his scratchy pen in hand, and with the last drop of ink in the bottle informs the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that he, Bill Brown, of the Hall Room Apartments, paid to John Smith, 13 Profiteer avenue, $1,200 for his three-room flat in 1919.

all of the Bill Browns who are running themselves ragged to pay the rent, the Internal Revenue Bureau will have all the information needed to see that the profiteer, John Smith, pays proper tax or face prosecution."

While the work of collecting the income taxes will be just as heavy this year as it was in 1919, the government will receive less revenue. Instead of collecting 6 per cent. on incomes between $2,000 and $4,000 from married persons, as was done last year, only 4 per cent. will be collected this time. Single persons will get an exemption of $1,000, as was provided under the previous revenue law. On incomes above $4,000 the normal tax will be 8 per cent. instead of 12 per cent. as last year. But the surtax begins operations at $4,000, and continues upward until the government will assess 60 per cent. of annual incomes above $1,000,000.

Internal revenue officials will send income tax forms to all persons who paid taxes last year. Others who are taxable must apply to the collectors for them. Mr. Roper warned there would be unswerving enforcement of the revenue laws and that "punishment will be meted out and penalties applied without fear or favor" this year, since all persons should be familiar with the law by this time. The commissioner said he would not appeal to the public to pay taxes on grounds of patriotism except insofar as tax payment constitutes a duty to

Returns, and at least one-fourth of the amount due must be in the hands of internal revenue collectors by

PREPARE NOW FOR

CONSTRUCTION WORK

Some people are looking forward, even hopefully, for a business depression which would bring about lower wages, and therefore lower prices and a reduced cost of living. This is fundamentally a false position. Men who think that the way to safety and to prosperity is through panie and depression and low prices are absilutely without any understanding of the present conditions. Because panies and lack of employment in the past, throwing millions of people out of employment, have brought about lower wages and lower cost of living, is no reason whatever for looking for such things under present conditions.

The world has completely changed. World inflation has cut the dollar in half, and no power on earth can alter this fact for many years to come.

Wages are high and justly so. They should continue high. Under present conditions the laboring man is entitled to high wages so long as he gives efficient service.

It is true that the changes which have come about have produced a certain intoxication of extravagance and waste on the part of men who are getting high wages. They are at the same time less efficient and energetic than they formerly were, but that is only the inevitable outcome of the mighty changes which are taking place in the financial, economic and social relations of wage-earners and all other interests.

The man who hesitates in carrying out construction work because of the high cost of doing work at the present time is making a mistake. He cannot get lower cost for years to come except through a business depression, which is not in sight, and which if it came would mean a desperate revolution, costing every business man and the country infinitely more than it now costs to go ahead as rapidly as materials and labor are available for all work.

The country needs 1,000,000 dwellings or more. They must be built or else the housing problems will in it. self threaten revolution.

The railroads need to spend at least $5,000,000, possibly double that sum, to create the transportation facilities needed. Failure to do so will bring about a complete breakdown of transportation and inability to handle coal, even when available, and much of the recent coal mining trouble has been due to the shortage of transportation.

When once railroad development is again under way and construction work for dwellings and hotels and office buildings has gotten well started. as it must do, the demand for labor and for materials will greatly exceed the supply.

The business men of Baltimore have been noted for many years for their ultra-conservatism; but today they are carrying on an emount of building of dwellings, apartmenthouses, enormous manufacturing plants and warehouses, greater than ever before known in the history of the city, except in the rebuilding period after the big fire. Thousands of dwellings are under construction, many apartment-houses costing from $100,000 to $1,250,000, or more, are under way, vast manufacturing plants to employ thousands of hands are going up or contracts let for their construction. In this respect Baltimore is setting the nation an example which should be followed by the entire country. If the extreme conservatism of Baltimore business men justifies the vast building activities in that city, surely there is no other progressive town or city in the country in which the same forces for upbuilding should not be at work aggressively .- Manufacturers Record.
